REPORT

FOR THE

Financial year ended on the 30th of September, 1930.

FOR

Presentation at the Annual General Meeting,
28th November, 1930.

"Real joy comes not from ease, not from riches, not from the applause of men, but from having done things that were worth while." That remark, whether it be a platitude or a truism, is grateful and comforting to the Board of Management of the Royal Hospital and Home for Incurables, Putney, when presenting their Seventy-sixth Annual Report, for the Board claim that during the year just ended they have attempted to do something that was worth while. Some particulars as to the actual results of their labours will be found on other pages of this slender booklet. There is one fact that cannot fail to gratify: during the past year the Board has succeeded in raising, from voluntary sources, a sum of money large enough to alleviate the physical suffering and lighten the despair of nine hundred incurable men and women whose lives were darkened by pain and want—surely an achievement "worth while."

Death of the Ex-Chairman

By the death of Sir William F. Clerke, Bt., which occurred in July last, and which we announce with deep regret, the Board lost a member of independent spirit and unbounded industry. He was always fair and always straight, always fiercely scrupulous and high principled. He was not one who was given to facile enthusiasms, but he could be relied upon to be thorough and painstaking. He was a man of sterling character. He served on the Board for nearly thirty years, and for six years he was Chairman. His first aim was always to do what was right. He had no taste for mere success, as such. His colleagues knew that in all circumstances he would do what seemed to him to be just. His sympathies were wide-thrown and his application of them without limit. Throughout the War, during which he lost a son and heir, he worked on bravely. He never neglected what he regarded as his duty because of his private griefs: he tried to bear the unbearable. He was ready at all times to help and advise his colleagues, by whom he was admired and respected for his unbending conscientiousness and his unflinching courtesy. His death is a cause of great sorrow to all who knew him, and his memory will be long cherished by his many friends and by all whose privilege it was to work with him.

Report of the Royal Hospital and Home for Incurables, Putney. 7

We deeply regret to record the lamented death of Mr. Eliot Reed, which occurred in March last. The deceased gentleman joined the Board twenty-eight years ago. He was an earnest worker in the philanthropic world, as was his grandfather, the founder of this and several other well-known National Charities. As a committee man Mr. Eliot Reed was practical and persuasive; he had no impish sense of fun, so marked in the character of his staunch and lifelong friend, the late Mr. Thomas W. Wickham, an ex-Chairman of this Institution. He was called upon for many years as a speaker at our Founder's Day celebration, and he never failed to enlist the closest attention of patients and visitors alike. He was not critical—he was always too profoundly thankful for the fact that this Institution, the "youngest child" of his grandfather's idealism, continued to grow and prosper.

Founder's Grandson.

A New Chairman.

Following the resignation of Sir William F. Clerke, Bt., in December last, it was necessary to appoint a successor. Subscribers and friends everywhere will be glad to learn that Major T. Clarence E. Goff, D.L., J.P., who has served on the Board for twenty-eight years, has accepted the responsible position. His election was unanimous. Major Goff is well known for his practical sympathies with philanthropic work; for a long time he has been an active member of the governing body of one of our larger London general hospitals; he is also a prominent personality at County Hall, where, as Vice-Chairman, his duties necessarily demand much time and attention. We are selfish enough to hope that, as the years pass, our Chairman will not find that his other duties prove so onerous as to cause any diminution in the close attention which he now so ably devotes to our Institution. Our work is enthralling in its interest and boundless in its intricacy. Long may he adorn the position of Chairman which he has taken up with such zest. We must look to Lady Cecilie Goff to endorse our aspirations.

THE NEW CHAIRMAN.
(MAJOR T. CLARENCE E. GOFF, D.L., J.P.).

In October last the Board were fortunate enough to prevail upon Sir H. Percy Shepherd to join them. It was in the early 'nineties that Sir Percy's father began to take a practical interest in the affairs of this Charity. Since Mr. William Shepherd's death his son and his co-Trustees have made generous benefactions to this Institution and to many others. Sir Percy is an ex-Sheriff of the City of London, a member of the Common Council and Chairman of the Streets Committee.

Three New
the Board.

In November last Mr. G. F. Lenanton joined the Board. He comes to us via Winchester, the Army, Oxford and the City. He has youth on his side and is still in the thirties, when mental effort should come naturally, with freshness and force. There are, no doubt, aspects associated with the work of a great National Charity upon which senior colleagues can best offer enlightenment, but there are also new channels through which younger men may provide fresh inspiration to those for whom actual experience gained across a voluntary hospital committee table has already done much, and the accession of a member of Mr. Lenanton's age and calibre is most welcome.

In June last Mr. Lewis French, C.I.E., C.B.E., was elected. In Mr. French the Board have acquired, they feel convinced, one who is likely to render valuable service. Now a retired Indian Civil Servant, Mr. French has had extensive and successful experience in administrative and financial matters. He does not know that he has been observed for some time as a neighbour of ours at Putney; he has—and we have learnt how he loves his garden and that he will be able to help us in the management of our twenty-five acre "estate."

By this generous importation of new blood the Board have not a shadow of doubt that their activities will be widened and enriched.

Sir Alexander Glegg.

Among the personages named in the list of the King's Birthday Honours in June last was a member of the Board, in Sir Alexander Glegg. For sixteen years Sir Alexander has served on the Board of Management of this Institution, and his friends and colleagues offer him their warmest and sincerest congratulations on the honour conferred by His Majesty. Sir Alexander has always had many irons in the fire, and his services as Chairman of the Council of the Congregational Union of England and Wales and, for a number of years, Treasurer of the London Congregational Union, in addition to his splendid efforts on behalf of numerous charities, richly deserve the recognition they have received.

Retirement of Miss Begg.

The Board announce with deep regret the impending retirement of Miss Lucy S. Begg, who has served as Matron at the Royal Hospital and Home for Incurables for over twenty-one years with conspicuous ability and devotion. During her period of office she has never spared herself in ministering to the needs of our helpless invalids, and by her sympathetic and unselfish care for those in her charge she has won the admiration of all who knew her. Miss Begg feels that the time has now come when she must hand over the reins of office to a younger official, and herself take a long rest. She carries with her into her richly-earned retirement the very best wishes of the Board, as well as those of countless friends who will long remember her devoted efforts and tireless energy on behalf of our Institution.

Was it Thackeray who said: "What a dignity it gives an old lady, that balance at the banker's! How tenderly we look at her faults if she is a relative: what a kind, good-natured old creature we find her!"? What a good thing it would be were we able to regard the Royal Hospital and Home for Incurables, Putney, as a dear old lady with a balance at the banker's. Unfortunately our Institution's "balance" is sometimes on the wrong side and an overdraft is necessary. How could it be otherwise with an assured income of £11,000 or £12,000 and an average annual expenditure of about £50,000? Still, the following figures for the last two years are something to be grateful for:—

Annual Subscriptions	7,767	17	8	7,942	4	6

Total Income	£63,016	19	0	£58,072	0	8

Annual subscriptions for 1930 are right up to high-water mark; life subscriptions are down a little; the total ordinary income is nothing about which it is necessary to say much; legacies are down, spoke in glowing terms of our President, Lord Lee of Fareham, and the work of our Board. At the conclusion of his able and happy speech he paid a tribute to Sir Alexander Glegg, whose name he coupled with the toast, "The President and the Board of Management." Sir Alexander replied in a striking speech.

Viscount Lee of Fareham, our President, proposed the toast of "The Chairman." After an interesting and amusing reference to Lord Brentford's political activities, he said: "At any rate, he has begun his period out of office in a very admirable fashion by undertaking the task of raising funds for our great Institution." Lord Lee drew the attention of his audience to the fact that our Institution receives nothing from the great National Hospital Funds, and added: "We can only hope that as a result of such eloquent appeals as that made to-night by our Chairman, and by the sympathy which must be aroused in everybody who goes and visits it, that somehow or other we may be able to raise this £50,000 which is the minimum expenditure we can contemplate."

Lord Brentford, in acknowledging the toast, referred to Lord Lee's political career, and concluded: "I hope and trust that when we next return to office we shall have the advice and support and the friendly and useful criticism of our friend, Lord Lee of Fareham."

During the past year additions have been made to the Lady Patients' Dining Room accommodation, and the Kitchens have been completely reconstructed. It had been realised for some time that the Ladies' Dining Rooms were uncomfortably overcrowded, and the Committee considered a number of schemes for overcoming this difficulty. Ultimately it was decided that the most satisfactory and economical means of carrying this out was to increase the whole width of the Main Dining Room by some 12 feet to the North side, and this has now been carried into effect without in any way detracting from the dignified appearance of the Hospital externally. This extension has also enabled us to increase the Staff Sitting Room and Dining Room underneath and allowed for the provisions of the most modern form of cold storage for meat and milk, etc. While this was being carried out the whole of the Kitchens have been reconstructed and modernised. The Kitchens are now brought into line with all the latest improvements in kitchen apparatus and washing-up machines, the walls are finished in white tiles and the ceilings in opalite, which means that not only are the Kitchens cleaner and brighter, but maintenance is now reduced to a minimum. This rearrangement will greatly facilitate the work of the domestic staff as well as the supervision of the Kitchens, and at the same time add considerably to the comfort of the patients and the serving of hot meals. The work, which will have cost approximately £4,000, has been carried out by Messrs. John Greenwood, under the instructions and supervision of Mr. R. M. Pigott, F.R.I.B.A., the Hospital's architect.

Structural Alterations.

Keen disappointment was felt that H.R.H. Princess Arthur of Connaught was unfortunately prevented from fulfilling her promise to open the

of Work.

Annual Sale of Work on June 24th. The Lady Maud Carnegie, at Her Royal Highness' request, graciously consented to take her place, and her visit was greatly appreciated. In the unavoidable absence of the President, Viscount Lee of Fareham, the Lady Maud was received by the Chairman, Major Goff, other members of the Board and the President of the Ladies' Sale of Work Committee. After receiving a bouquet from Miss Curtis, the oldest patient in the Home, the Lady Maud proceeded to the Sale Room, and, after declaring the Sale open and making a tour of the stalls, visited many parts of the Hospital and talked to the patients. Lady Carmichael, who is personally well known at the Home, kindly opened the Sale on the second day. The Sale proved satisfactory and a good sum was realised, but a quantity of the work remained unsold and had to be returned to the disappointed owners. We most earnestly hope that more visitors will attend in future years, so that the patients may have fewer articles remaining unsold.

The Ladies' Association.

The Ladies' Association works behind the scenes, but as the half-yearly Hospital Elections draw near its influence comes to the fore. As large a number of guineas as is possible to devote to the acquisition of votes from the Hospital is drawn from the funds at disposal. These funds are the subscriptions and donations of the members and friends of the Association. The Hospital, in return for this cheque, sends votes (at the rate of four votes per guinea) to the Ladies' Association, which are distributed to the members' cases on the Association's list of applicants for admission or pension. If it were not for this Association some of the poorer and more forlorn candidates could hardly make any progress at all in the direction of securing votes and obtaining admission. The Association makes it a general rule to adopt one specially "unbefriended" case, to whom four-fifths of the votes are given; the remaining one-fifth is distributed amongst the members' cases. The President is Anne, Viscountess Cowdray, who graciously consented to fill the post recently held by the Duchess of Richmond and Gordon. Among the Vice-Presidents are Lady Gray (Deputy President), Lady Loch and the Hon. Mrs. Norman Grosvenor. Anyone interested may apply to the Hon. Secretary, Miss Adelaide Lane, 19, Longridge Road, S.W. 5, who will gladly supply information.

Again, by their practical help and sympathy, our Authorised Lady Visitors have succeeded in adding greatly to the happiness of the patients during the past year. These kind-hearted ladies visit our Home regularly and help the inmates in various ways. Sometimes they read aloud to or chat with them; sometimes they write their letters or do their shopping, thus providing a link between the invalids and the world outside. The Authorised Lady Visitors also hold meetings and discuss their plans. At other times they consult with the House Committee and the Matron, who are always anxious to combine with them in their efforts to promote the general well-being of the patients. It is the aim of the Lady Visitors to increase the personal comfort of our invalids and to bring fresh interests into their lives.

The Authorised Lady Visitors.

Over the Garden Wall.

We are all interested in our neighbours, no matter whether we rent a humble home in Peckham or own a fine place in Surrey. That is the reason for this reference to some new tenants on land adjoining our premises at Putney. The "Spicer Estate," after being vacant for thirty years or more, has been acquired by Whitelands College, and now imposing buildings have been put up for the occupation of budding schoolmistresses. Our new neighbours have our heartiest good wishes for many years of happy and successful work in their new quarters. Youth and health on one side of the wall and on the other side—Incurables! Yet, let us hope, we shall share together for generations to come the same sky, the winter winds, the spring flowers and the warm summer breezes. And the trees that stand about will set all of us an example of friendly and sedate behaviour.

Asking for it!

The editor of a French provincial journal, L'Echo de St. Astier, published a little time ago the following brief obituary notice:—

"The funeral of Madame widow Chouvene took place last week. The deceased's life being very retired, she leaves a great deal of money and few regrets."

Doubtless the editor has to do his work very rapidly and perhaps his expressions do not always bear the exact meaning intended. Certain it is that those two words "few regrets" were likely to bring him many letters of protest. Possibly some readers of the obituary notice would realise how true it is that, in circumstances where there is much money to be left, no better means of perpetuating a grateful memory are to be found than by remembering the claims of a National Charity, such as the Royal Hospital and Home for Incurables, Putney. The Treasurer of our Institution is always grateful to the memory of those who leave legacies for the purpose of carrying on the good work for the relief of incurable sufferers, but he may sometimes wonder why so many well-to-do persons who might with advantage send a generous gift now, instead of leaving it behind (to the embarrassment of their executors), do not do so.

A worthy citizen of Aberdeen sent us his usual annual subscription of five guineas in October and in the month of April another "annual subscription" for the same amount. Possibly he overlooked the fact that our financial year closes at the end of September. With commendable conscientiousness we pointed out to him that we had had two "annuals" from him within the same year; we suggested that perhaps he would wish us to carry over his last gift as a subscription for the ensuing twelve months. "Not a bit of it!" he answered. "As I have made a careless mistake I will put up with the consequences. You may treat the second cheque as a special donation, for although I am a true son of Aberdeen I think I ought to be suitably punished for giving you the trouble of writing to me so fully. Just tell your English subscribers that they will lose nothing if they also send you two cheques instead of one, and if they receive so fair and pleasant a letter from you as I have done they will be amply rewarded." Who dares to say now that Aberdonians are "close"?

Abandon at Aberdeen.

Finding Money.

Lady A. and other friends and supporters who discuss the work of this National Charity with animation and almost with proprietary enthusiasm write from time to time stating how very difficult they discover it is to raise money for the big Home at Putney. They seek guidance on the subject. But who can describe the secret of success in such a matter? Finding money for a hospital is a difficult and mysterious job, bathed in an intimate and profound acquaintance with human nature; its essence can no more be described than can a child's smile. The man or woman who can raise money in seemingly impossible quarters is able to pass where we can see only an abyss.

In Conclusion.

One of the saddest aspects of all Charities is that nothing is ever finished; everything is in course of achievement. We may help a struggling soul into smoother waters, only to turn our heads another way and discover other poor fellow creatures who would founder without help. Our task of to-day may be ended, but the first thing to-morrow morning we find other tasks that are just as pressing. Success is sweet, but it means—first of all—the satisfaction of one's own conscience; then comes the approval of those who are in sympathy with one's aims; after that there is the knowledge that without one's best efforts much misery and hardship that are preventable would have swamped and extinguished brothers and sisters whose claims to decent life are quite as worthy as our own. It is difficult to see what would happen were the work of the Royal Hospital and Home for Incurables, Putney, to cease for lack of practical sympathy.

Signed by Order of the Board,
CHARLES CUTTING,
Secretary.

28th November, 1930.

There are two Elections a year, one on the last Friday in MAY and one on the last Friday in NOVEMBER. The List of applicants for nomination as candidates for the May Election closes on January 1st, and the List for the November Election closes on July 1st. The Board can deal with only one Election at a time. Friends who send in applications for nomination after the 1st of January must please understand that the papers are held over for the November Election; just as friends who send in applications for nomination after the 1st of July must understand that the papers are held over for the following Election in May. The enormous amount of work entailed by each Election renders a long time for preparation necessary.

The Matron will be glad to receive gifts of clothing of all kinds for the use of the male and female patients.

All presents of old Linen, large quantities of which are used, will be most thankfully received.

Presents of Game for the Patients are very highly valued.

Subscribers and Friends are cordially invited to visit the Hospital any afternoon between 2.30 and 5.30 o'clock; Sundays, 2 to 4 p.m.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I bequeath to THE ROYAL HOSPITAL AND HOME FOR INCURABLES, PUTNEY, the sum of £ _____, free of duty, to be paid, together with the duty thereon, out of such part of my estate as can be lawfully bequeathed for charitable purposes, and to be applicable to the general purposes of such Institution, and I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer or other proper officer for the time being of such Institution shall be a sufficient discharge for the same.

N.B.—By virtue of the "Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891," land may now be devised to a Charity, but it is liable to be sold within one year from the death of the Testator.

The Hospital is not quite a mile from East Putney Railway Station (District Railway), where cabs are obtainable. Putney Station (Southern Railway) is about a mile distant. Motor omnibuses (Services Nos. 93 and 85B) run from Putney Bridge Station (District Railway) to the top of Putney Hill, which is within three minutes' walk of the Hospital.
